

LEARNING blog

Week ending:
29th March
2019

We have had a superb time in Year 6 this week- everyone has been really brave and resilient!

Year 6 are so proud of themselves and I am too. We have been brilliant this week with all of these mock Sats thrown at us from all directions and we all have made an improvement in at least one area in our learning, which is fantastic!

In our English, we are continuing our campaigns for our Topic outcome on Monday and we would love it if you came; the projects all look wonderful and I am loving the different ways people have interpreted their tasks!

In our Maths, we have been exploring algebra investigations, one of which was really complicated.

Our art projects are all fabulous and our rainforest songs are sounding beautiful. Here's to another successful week in Year 6!
