

Y6 Blog - Week Beginning 1st July 2019

WOW!! Don't tell anyone but the sun has come out at last. Now we can get to enjoying the weather and our last few days at primary school.

This week's work has been really different from normal.

Each of us has been to visit our new secondary schools. We admit that we were scared about how we would get there, what the teachers would be like and how quickly we would get lost. On Monday, we'll tell our Y6 teachers all about it.

When we have been here, it's been rehearse, rehearse, rehearse! We won't tell you more because we want you to come and see us perform. Prop making for a cast of over 70 has been fun and making the ultimate mix of brown paint with PVA left all of us sticking and grubby.

Finally, Mrs Becousse and Mr Roberts taught us how to invent our own games. We got as much equipment as we could and designed athletic games on the field. It was brilliant fun, especially trying to learn somebody else's odd new game!

Last couple of weeks coming up!!
